

Chris Moles	The Heart of Domestic Abuse (I walk through my definitions and a biblical understanding of Domestic Abuse) The Impact of Domestic Abuse on Children (I walk through the theological and sociological aspects related to children who witness domestic violence against their mother)
Warren Lamb	Created Male & Female: Gender Matters When Scripture says, “Male and female He created them,” there is a declaration by God Most High that “gender matters.” Our world has “lost its mind” in regards to gender and sexuality, completely disconnect from and in rebellion against these truths of old. This workshop provides clarity and understanding of where we are, how we got here, and the path God has laid out for us to bring freedom to those taken captive by the lies of the homosexualist and transgender campaigns.
Antonio Alfred	Topic #3 – Pastoral Ministry and Biblical Counseling Biblical counseling involves enormous and dynamic components. In this workshop, however, I will only discuss six of these concepts that are involved in the ministry of biblical counseling. The six components are as follows: the goal, building involvement, passion, data gathering, rethinking the problem, and nouthetic confrontation. The purpose of this workshop is to persuade you that biblical counseling is a vital part of the pastoral ministry that must be perform according to Scripture.
Daniel Berger	(1) Session 1: Ancient Madness vs. Modern Mental Illness (Session 1 of 2) Today’s prominent psychiatrists (who control and sustain the construct of mental illness) insist that normalcy and mental illness cannot be objectively determined or defined. Yet they assert that their

Daniel Berger (cont'd.)	constructs of human abnormalities contained in the DSM-5 should be believed and applied dogmatically. But if normal is subjective and imprecise, then how can deviances from a non-existent standard logically exist objectively? What if an objective definition does exist, however, and discovering its essential elements simplifies the concept of madness/psychosis and exposes exactly why secularists cannot or refuse to objectively define normalcy and mental illness? In order to answer these questions, the original definition of madness found in Scripture will be compared and contrasted with the current accepted psychiatric theory. Ancient Madness vs. Modern Mental Illness (Session 2 of 2) The modern psychiatric constructs of psychosis (e.g., schizophrenia, bipolar, dissociative Identity disorder . . .) and the secular theory referred to as the "dimensional approach" will be examined more carefully and compared with the first recorded historical examples of psychosis. Likewise, the content and cause of delusions and hallucinations will be investigated more thoroughly. Is madness truly an abnormality, or is madness an unfortunate and impairing aspect of human nature?
Sarah Cadwell	Ancient Paths for many leads to Buddhism. Comparisons and Contrasts of Christianity with Buddhism and why we need to understand that belief system. Helping family members or disciples who may not be practicing Buddhists - may even be Christians but have grown up in a Buddhist culture - evaluate their cultural views, specifically as it relates to suffering. That is their big struggle and the most important thing we can do for any person who is suffering is to help them with a Biblically faithful view of suffering - giving them hope to go through it God's way.

Jeff & Rose Colon	Dealing with Emotional Affairs in Marriage. Description: In this workshop Jeff and Rose will be looking at emotional affairs. What kind of devastating effects can it have in a marriage? Is it considered sin? How do they get started? How can spouse guard their hearts from falling into this trap.
Rose Colon	Ancient Paths from Psalm 1. Description: Is Psalm 1 still relevant for our modern times? In this workshop, Rose will go through this Psalm verse by verse and look at how counselors can apply this wealth of wisdom in their counseling sessions.
Howard Eyrich	James, The Model Biblical Counselor: Practical, Poignant, Powerful How will James be useful in counseling? That is a great question! Here is how we will answer that question. We will see that James lays out seven characteristics of genuine faith. As we work our way through these we will observe that James implements that same put off, renew thinking, put off dynamic that Paul articulates in his epistles. Rather than like Luther who called James the Epistle of Straw and would have banned it from the cannon, we will come to see that James is complementary to Paul rather than in opposition. Paul emphasized faith and grace yet certainly poignantly promotes works. James, on the other hand, emphasizes works as the expression of faith (grace experienced). Retirement Is It Biblical? If It Is, How Do We Do It Biblically? Few people ask these questions until retirement is upon them. One of the reasons we know this is true is the astounding number of people who have less than $5000.00 saved for retirement. We will examine how to help the counselee who is asking the questions and

	we will explore how to encourage us to ask the questions.
Mark Hager	The Gospel and Evangelism in Counseling: The Power of Change from the Truths of Antiquity Biblical counseling is one of the greatest evangelistic opportunities we will ever face in the church today, so we must be prepared to address the most powerful part of the change process – the gospel! In this workshop you will learn how to effectively and comfortably evangelize in the counseling setting. You will be provided several unique illustrations that will help transition conversations and topics to the gospel in a counseling office. Additionally, you will learn ways to evangelize your community, connect outside counseling prospects to your church and to effectively evangelize “religious people.”
Jeff Christianson	The Power of The Holy Spirit in Counseling Law and Grace in the Counseling Situation
Ruth Froese	Biblically Counseling Women Who Have Suffered Unspeakable Evil (Women Only) In this fallen world that promises suffering and pain, there is an ancient path~the path of hope. This workshop will consider how to disciple women who have suffered unspeakable evil so that they can travel the ancient path of peace, joy and hope.
Bob & Ruth Froese	The Ins and Outs of IABC Certification Are you a pastor, wondering what impact Biblical Counseling could make in your church? Are you a student of the Word, wondering whether certification as a Biblical Counselor is for you? This workshop will walk you through towards certification, and offer opportunity for interaction about the challenges of keeping counsel on the ancient path.

Marlowe Bulkley	Slaying the Giant of Depression When we have failed to believe the basic truth...that His divine power has given us everything we need for life and godliness through our knowledge of him who called us by his own glory and goodness (2 Peter 1:3), the end result can be tragic. What do you do or what do you tell others to do when they are battling depression? Or more importantly, what did God say to do? Ultimately God is more interested in our character than our comfort!
Rick Thomas	How To Overcome the Fear Of Others This workshop is one of our most requested training sessions. Being controlled by the opinion of other people is a problem that every person struggles with to varying degrees. Biblically, it is called the fear of man. It is also called peer pressure, insecurity, co-dependency, and being controlled by what other individuals think of you. In this workshop Rick walks you through the problem and solution. It is the perfect training for any person who wants to overcome this problem, from the teenage years and up.
Kevin Lee	Renewing the Mind and Getting Our Mind Right - Ephesians 4:22-24 tells us to put off the old man, renew our mind, and to put on the new man. Renewing the mind and changing how and what we think is crucial to being able to put off the old for good and to put on the new. We will explore Scripture truth to learn how to help counselees learn

	about and how to apply Philippians 4:8 in thinking biblically. Premarital Counseling - Setting up and conducting biblical premarital counseling within the church biblical counseling ministry to help couples get on the right track and stay there before and after the wedding.
Julie Ganschow	Bearing the Burdens of the Elderly This workshop will focus on the emotional and spiritual burdens of the elderly and how you can minister to them.
Woody Church	How do I know the will of God? Is God sovereign? I Thessalonians 4: 1-12 is a key to unlocking God’s will for us as believers. The will of God, divine will, or God’s plan, refers to the context of God having a plan for humanity. Understandably what God wants is very important in practical theology.
Alden Laird	I Don't Have Any Friends More and more people are facing loneliness, a feeling of abandonment, and/or a perspective that they do not have any friends. A fresh look at the lives of David and Jonathan can assist and make a real difference. The camaraderie they enjoyed demonstrates the essential qualities for God-centered friendships.
Steve Cranston	Ancient Paths and Christ-Honoring Communication Communication is an aspect of our lives that governs every relationship we’re in, from the closest to the most casual. Let’s look how “Returning to the Ancient Paths” of Scriptural teaching will help us immensely in correcting our communication skills to more honor Christ.